An abstract, colorful painting with various geometric shapes, lines, and organic forms. A prominent yellow vertical rectangle is in the center, with a blue square on top. To the right is a large yellow circle with a grey center. A red triangle points downwards from the top left. The background is a mix of purple, blue, green, and yellow washes.

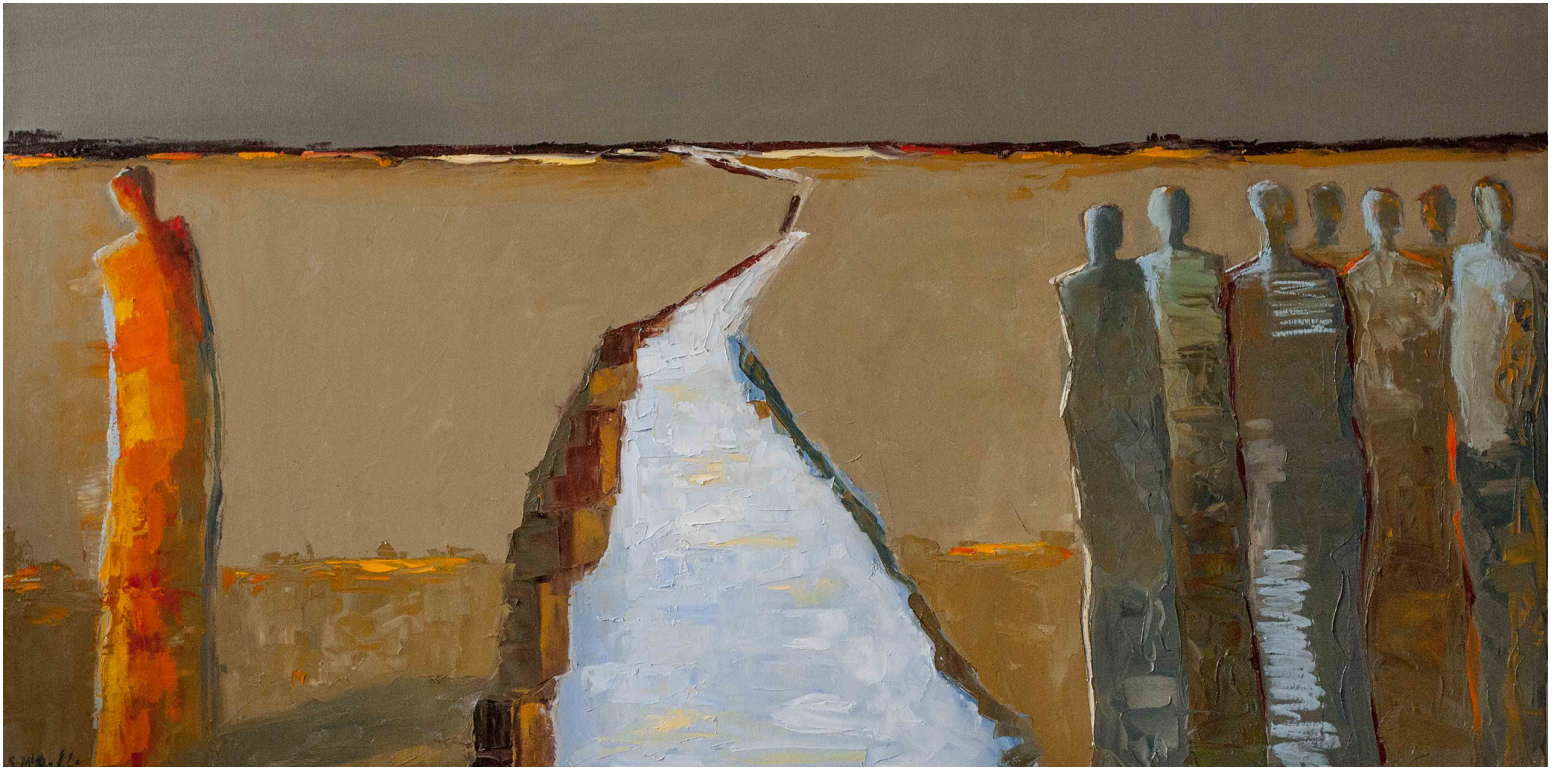

DUKE GRADUATE CONFERENCE IN POLITICAL THEORY

Seventh Annual

FEBRUARY 26, 2021

* Registration Link *

A LINK CONTAINING THE PAPERS
WILL BE SENT IN THE REGISTRATION
CONFIRMATION EMAIL

SCHEDULE

9:30 am - Opening remarks

- Charles Nathan and Somia Youssef, co-organizers
- 9:35 - 10:35 Paper 1: “Mutual Service as the Value of Democracy” by Zsolt Kapelner, Central European University.
- Discussant: Jack Knight, Duke University

10:35 - 10:45 Break

- 10:45 - 11:45 Paper 2: “'Law by Moses': Hebraic Republicanism in the Debates over Ratification, 1787-1788” by Daniel Slate, Stanford University.

- Discussant: Michael Lienesch, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

11:45 - 12:00 Break

- 12:00 - 1:00 Paper 3: "Women in Corinth: Gender, Justice, and Failed Revolution in Euripides' Medea" by Silvia Fedi, University of Chicago.
- Discussant: Susan Bickford, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

1:00 - 2:30 Lunch

- 2:30 - 4:00 Keynote: "Plato on the Value of Rule: Three dimensions in the Republic, Statesman, and Laws"
- Melissa Lane, Class of 1943 Professor of Politics, Princeton University

4:00 - 4:15 Break

- 4:15 - 5:15 Paper 4: "Far Out: The Ethics of Non-Resident Citizens' Participation" by Tara Ginnane, University of Texas at Austin.
- Discussant: Alexander Kirshner, Duke University

5:15 - 6:15 Happy Hour

Sponsored by The Program for the Study of Democracy,
Institutions and Political Economy in the Department of Political Science at Duke University