

2017 National Advocacy Dinner

Learn the top legislative issues affecting your future profession and patients, on the state and federal level, and find out how YOU can get involved and make a difference NOW.

The National Advocacy Dinner will be hosted in cities across the country.

Duke Doctor of Physical Therapy Advocacy Special Interest Group and UNC Student Physical Therapy Association are co-hosting a National Advocacy Dinner in the Capital district at

Durham County South Regional Library
4505 S Alston Ave, Durham, North Carolina 27713
on Thursday, March 30
from 6:45 - 8:30pm

Network and grab dinner at 6:45pm, programming will begin at 7:00pm

The NAD is an opportunity to learn about physical therapy advocacy and to educate PT/PTA students, clinicians, and the public about the legislative process. It serves as a valuable tool for encouraging and empowering students to engage in advocacy. This is an educational session, free, and open to the public.

In addition to this dinner being hosted in the Triangle area, there will be other dinners happening across the state on the same night.

To RSVP:

Email Anne Gross at anne.gross@duke.edu or Ali Serrani at aserrani@email.unc.edu

Or RSVP online at <http://www.signupgenius.com/go/30E0845ACA82BA1FB6-capitol>