The Clinical Research Training Program Announces a New Spring 2015 Course Offering:

CRP 267

Strategies & Approaches to Patient Engagement

This course provides a practical foundation in strategies and approaches to meaningfully engage patients and caregivers in the research process.

Topics include:
- identifying patient collaborators
- fostering patient engagement
- training patient collaborators
- integrating patient engagement into research proposals.

Recommended for Duke faculty, house staff and staff who are interested in patient-centered outcomes research.

For full course description: crtp.mc.duke.edu

---

Gillian D. Sanders-Schmidler, PhD
Associate Professor, DUMC Department of Medicine, Duke Clinical Research Institute

Jennifer M. Gierisch, PhD
Assistant Professor, DUMC Department of Medicine & Center for Health Services Research in Primary Care, Durham Veterans Affairs Medical Center

Questions/to apply:
Phone: 919-681-4560
Email: crtp@mc.duke.edu