ARTICLE VI: VOTING PROCEDURES
Section 1. Introduction
At times, the Assembly may be required to cast votes on a motion.

Section 2. Voter eligibility
Voter eligibility within the General Assembly will be determined by Article VII of these Bylaws or other Bylaws if applicable.

Section 3. Definition of vote
The term “vote” shall refer to a formal indication of an eligible voter’s choice or opinion in an election, or on a motion.

Section 4. Presiding Officers
A Presiding Officer shall supervise each vote. Unless otherwise defined by these Bylaws, the Vice President shall serve as Presiding Officer in meetings of the Assembly. The President shall serve as Presiding Officer for meetings during recess of the Assembly. The Presiding Officer cannot cast a vote on the motion over which they preside. If a Presiding Officer cannot serve due to a conflict of interest or absence, the President shall choose another Representative of the Assembly or Executive Committee to serve as Presiding Officer, unless otherwise stated by these Bylaws.

Section 5. Majority
These Bylaws recognize the following rules for decision-making on all votes cast within the General Assembly or Executive Committee:

Subsection A. A simple majority is a number greater than half of the votes cast.

Subsection B. A two-thirds majority is a number greater than or equal to sixty-seven percent of votes cast.

Section 6. Other instances of voting
Any instances of voting not defined by these Bylaws shall be resolved using a simple majority rule.

Section 7. Methods of voting
In situations necessitating votes, Representatives of the Assembly may choose from the following methods of voting unless these Bylaws explicitly define a method.
Subsection A. A vote by division of assembly is a voting method in which individuals cast their votes on a motion by raising their voting cards or their hands. The Presiding Officer shall first present the motion and then ask those in favor of the motion to signify their support by raising their voting cards or their hand. Then the Presiding Officer shall ask those opposed to the motion to signify their opposition by raising their voting cards or their hand. The Presiding Officer shall then ask those abstaining from voting to signify their abstention by raising their voting cards or their hand. In all division of assembly votes, the Presiding Officer and the Executive Secretary shall both count the votes. The vote is over when both the Presiding Officer and Executive Secretary agree on the count. A motion only passes if the number in favor is equal to or greater than the number of votes required by the applicable rule as stated in Article VI, Section 5 or other relevant sections of these Bylaws.

Subsection B. A recorded vote is a voting method in which the names and votes of individuals supporting or opposing a motion are recorded on a paper ballot. The Presiding Officer shall present the motion and the Attorney General shall distribute paper ballots to eligible voters. Eligible voters shall indicate, in writing, their support or opposition to the motion and identify themselves by writing their full names and constituencies on the ballot. The Presiding Officer and Executive Secretary shall count and keep a record of the votes. The vote is over when both the presiding officer and Executive Secretary agree on the count and record. A motion only passes if the number in favor is equal to or greater than the number of votes required by the applicable rule as stated in Article VI, Section 5 or other relevant sections of these Bylaws.

Subsection C. A vote by secret ballot is a voting method for the General Assembly in which the votes of members supporting or opposing a motion, but not their names, are recorded on a paper ballot. The presiding officer will present the motion and then direct the Attorney General to distribute paper ballots to all eligible voters. Eligible voters will then indicate in writing their support or opposition to the motion. The presiding officer and Executive Secretary will count the votes. The vote is over when both the presiding officer and Executive Secretary agree on the count and record. A motion only passes if the number in favor is equal or greater than the number of votes required by the applicable rule as stated in Article VI, Section 5 of these Bylaws or in another relevant bylaw. Upon completion of the vote by secret ballot process, the presiding officer and Executive Secretary will be responsible for the disposal of all ballots.

Subsection D. A voice vote is a method of voting on any motion that does not require more than a simple majority vote to pass. The Presiding Officer shall first present the motion and then ask for those in favor of the motion to vocally signify their support. Then the Presiding Officer shall ask those opposed to the motion to vocally signify their opposition. Then the Presiding Officer will as for those abstaining from voting to vocally signify their abstention. The Presiding Officer shall estimate the vote counts and state the result. If the outcome of the vote is unclear upon completion of a voice vote, any Representative of the Assembly may request a vote by division of assembly, recorded vote, or vote by secret ballot. The Presiding Officer must honor the request.

Subsection E. A vote by unanimous consent is a method of voting in which no eligible voter present objects to a motion. The Presiding Officer shall first present the motion and then explain that if no eligible voter objects to the motion, the motion will pass. Then, the Presiding Officer shall pause and listen for objection. If the Presiding Officer hears no objection, the motion passes. If the Presiding Officer hears an objection the motion fails, and the motion requires a re-vote by division of assembly, recorded vote, vote by secret ballot, or voice vote.

Subsection F. An instant-runoff vote is a method for voting in elections but may only be used if the Assembly must elect a single winner with a simple majority rule from a field of more than two candidates. The Presiding Officer will explain the instant-runoff vote process and present the names of the candidates for office. The Attorney General shall then distribute ballots to the Assembly. Representatives of the Assembly will rank the candidates in order of most favored to least favored. Voters may choose to rank only those candidates they desire to win the office. The Presiding Officer and Executive Secretary shall count the votes. If no candidate has the support of a majority of voters, the candidate with the least support will be eliminated. Another round of counting takes place, with the votes of supporters of the eliminated candidate now counting for their next choice candidate. After a candidate is eliminated, that candidate may not receive any more votes. This process of counting and elimination shall repeat until one candidate has over half the votes. If one candidate does not receive enough votes to satisfy a simple majority rule, the Presiding Officer shall cast a vote.

A seat will be considered abandoned after a Representative is absent, without proxy or Pardoned Absence, from three Assembly meetings in any one semester. The Executive Secretary will remind the Representative of this policy after two absences as well as communicate with the appropriate constituency. After the third absence without proxy or Pardoned Absence, the Executive Secretary shall declare the seat vacant. Exceptions will be decided on a case-by-case basis by the Vice President.

Section 11. Resignations
