Name of Potential Opportunity: COVID-19 Epidemiology

Name and titles of potential supervisor/s (and link to external-facing RTI expert page, if available):
Name: Pia MacDonald, PhD
Title: Senior Director, Applied Public Health Research

Overview: (2-4 sentences)
Opportunity for a PhD student to support epidemiological and public health intervention questions around the COVID-19 pandemic. More specifically, research may include quantitative study of the epidemic curves, comparing contact tracing programs, analyzing and summarizing epidemiological data about COVID-19.

Preferred skills: (including foreign languages, programming languages, etc.)
Must have data analysis and management skills and experience, science writing experience, literature review experience; Helpful to have any of the following, Python, R, SAS, STATA

Number or Interns: 1