

BIOGRAPHY: MAJ Rachel L. Walkup

Major Rachel Walkup is a U.S. Army Judge Advocate currently serving as the Brigade Judge Advocate for the 1st Brigade Combat Team, 82d Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Originally from Palo Alto, California. Major Walkup graduated from the University of California, San Diego with a Bachelor of Science in Management. After graduating from Georgetown University Law Center, she commissioned as a Judge Advocate, and has served in a variety of assignments as a military attorney, including an operational law attorney for Special Operations Joint Task Force-Afghanistan, defense counsel at Fort Riley, and senior trial counsel at Grafenwoehr, Germany. In August 2021, MAJ Walkup deployed to Kabul, Afghanistan as part of the non-combatant evacuation of 120,000+ U.S. and Afghan citizens from the Hamid Karzai International Airport.