

CDR Tracy L. Reynolds was commissioned through the Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps Direct Accession program and entered active duty service as a Judge Advocate in 2006. She is a member of the Missouri and Virginia State Bars. CDR Reynolds currently serves as Force Judge Advocate to Commander, Naval Medical Forces Atlantic in Portsmouth, Virginia.

CDR Reynolds' sea, operational, and overseas assignments include Chief of Operational Law at U.S. Fleet Forces Command in Norfolk, Virginia; Commander, Carrier Strike Group ONE, embarked upon USS CARL VINSON (CVN 70) (Staff Judge Advocate); Commander, Navy Forces/Navy Region Japan (Deputy Force Judge Advocate); Combined Task Force 151 Counter-Piracy embarked upon Republic of Korea Ship Kang Gam Chan (DDH 979) (Legal Advisor); Amphibious Ready Group ELEVEN embarked upon USS ESSEX (LHD 2) (Staff Judge Advocate); Region Legal Service Office, Yokosuka, Japan (Trial Counsel); Civilian Military Cell on the staff of General Nicholson, USA, Deputy of Stability Operations, Regional Command (South) Headquarters, Kandahar Airfield, Afghanistan (U.S. Military Legal Advisor); and U.S. National Command Element (Task Force Anzio), Kandahar Airfield, Afghanistan (Staff Judge Advocate). Her tour in Japan included humanitarian support efforts during Operation Tomodachi in March 2011.

CDR Reynolds' shore tours include Naval Special Warfare Command at Naval Amphibious Base Coronado (Deputy Staff Judge Advocate); Naval Special Warfare Group FOUR at Joint Expeditionary Base Little Creek Fort Story in Virginia Beach, Virginia (Staff Judge Advocate); and Naval Legal Service Office, North Central at the Washington Navy Yard (Physical Evaluation Board, Defense Counsel, Legal Assistance, and tax officer).

CDR Reynolds is currently a remote PhD student through the University of Adelaide's Research Unit on Military Law and Ethics. Her thesis draws connections between the Ouster Space Treaty and the law of the sea. She graduated in May 2016 from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University with an LL.M. in international law. She received a Master of Arts Degree in National Security and Strategic Studies with an emphasis on Asia and the Pacific from the Naval War College in June 2015. She received her Juris Doctorate from Saint Louis University School of Law in 2004. While attending law school, she earned certificates in Health Law and International Law, was captain of the Jessup International Law Moot Court Team, and was on the Trial Advocacy Team. CDR Reynolds graduated magna cum laude from Truman State University in Kirksville, Missouri, with a Bachelor of Arts in English with an emphasis in British Literature and minors in Biology, Political Science, and International Studies in 1999.

Her personal awards include selection as the 2021 Judge Advocates Association Navy Outstanding Career Judge Advocate, the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Navy Commendation Medal (3 awards), the Navy Achievement Medal (3 awards), the Army Commendation Medal, the Volunteer Service Medal, and the Humanitarian Service Medal for Operation Tomodachi (the earthquake, tsunami, and nuclear meltdown of the Fukushima power plant in Japan on 11 March 2011).