

DUHS INNOVATION SUMMIT: REDUCING HARMS

Unleash the power of innovation in nursing!

Spend the day with innovation experts and explore how creative problem-solving can enhance patient care, streamline workflows, and drive meaningful change in healthcare. With a focus on reducing patient harms, nurses will work individually or in teams to develop a pitch and refine solutions to a specific challenge. The day concludes with a formal pitch session, valuable feedback, and next steps, all geared toward turning innovation into reality.

Wednesday April 16, 2025

7:30 A.M. – 3:30 P.M.

Classroom 1103

Duke University School of Nursing

Register Here:

Terry McDonnell, DNP, RN, ACNP-BC
SVP & Chief Nurse Executive
Guest Speaker

Hutch Allen, PhD, RN, CNS, FNP-BC, AOCNP
Director of Nursing Research & EBP
Co-Host

Ryan Shaw, PhD, RN, FAAN
Chief Nurse Innovation Officer
Co-Host