

You: Discovering Your Health Goals

You are the ultimate owner of your life and your health. Being in the driver's seat requires a good map. It is important to know your starting point and your destination. This means knowing what your health is like now and what you would like your health to be going forward. This may be a new way to think about your health. Many of us are used to thinking about our health only when we are sick. Whole person health and well-being means understanding what your life goals are and what contributes to your sense of wellness over time.

A personal health inventory will follow this introduction. Please take time to think about where you are now and where you want to be. Your health coach will review this personal health inventory with you and use it as a tool to help you plan for your health in a way that fits your unique life and goals.

Personal Health Plan

Personal Health Inventory

For: _____

Date: _____

The first step in creating your plan is to complete a personal health inventory to assess where you are now and where you want to be.

1. How do I picture my best health?

How would I like to feel and look? What activities would I like to be able to do?

2. What is most important as I think about the picture of my best health?

Personal Health Plan

3. For each area, please take a moment to think about where you are now and where you would like to be. Please complete as many of the boxes as you can. You may want to start with the areas that are most interesting to you at this time. It is okay to just circle a number for each box, if you prefer.

Mindful Awareness Awareness of the present moment; paying attention to what you are doing while you are doing it.
Where are you now? On a scale of 1 (low) to 10 (high), how would you rate this area of your life? 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 Why did you choose this number?	Where would you like to be? 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 What changes could you make to help you get there?
Movement, Exercise and Rest Activities of daily living such as cleaning and gardening; exercise activities such as dancing, yoga, walking, running, and cycling; adequate rest and relaxation.

Goal Setting Guide

The second step in creating your personal health plan is to identify the areas you would like to focus on, the goals you would like to achieve, and the action steps that will get you there.

1. What area(s) of your health would you like to focus on now? What specific long-range outcome(s) would you like to achieve?

For example, losing 30 pounds in 6 months, stopping smoking, improving overall fitness, etc.

Personal Health Plan

2. What 3-6 month SMART goal(s) would help you meet the outcome you desire?

For example, exercising three times a week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday after work for an hour each time, eating a 1,500-calorie well-balanced diet daily, etc.

Your SMART goal should be:

Specific: Your goals should be clear and concise. If your goal is not specific, it is difficult to know when your action begins and when it is complete.

Measurable: A goal should be measurable so you can track your progress. You need to have clear criteria for progress and completion when taking action on a goal. Keeping track of your progress can be inspiring.

Action-Oriented: A goal should include action, and that action should be in your direct control.

Realistic: A goal should be realistic. It is best to work on small lifestyle changes that are easy to complete. Focus on the small steps instead of feeling overwhelmed by the big picture.

Timed: A goal should be tied to a timetable for completing specific, measurable, and realistic action.

3. Is there more than one option for meeting your SMART goal? If so, what are these options? Which one(s) appeal to you now to get you started?

For example, if your goal is to begin exercising three times a week after work on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday for an hour each session, what kinds of exercise appeal to you? Would you like to exercise alone or with others? What options would you like to consider?

Personal Health Plan

4. What are the SMART steps you want to start in Week One to begin working on your 3-6 month goal(s)?

For example, do you need to purchase any equipment such as a bike or bike helmet, running shoes, or gym membership? Do you want to start exercising this week for 20 minutes at a time to work up to your goal of one hour each time? Do you need to speak with a medical provider for clearance for a new exercise program? Do you need to meet with a nutritionist to plan a well-balanced diet? Make sure the SMART steps meet the same criteria as the SMART goals.

5. What have you learned about yourself from other times you have made changes to your health and lifestyle? What strengths do you bring to your health goals?

- Are you skillful at planning new initiatives? Can you bring your organizational, planning and tracking skills to this new behavior change? How will you do that?
- Do you have more energy and time in the mornings or evenings?
- Do you have more success when you plan goals that include connection with other people or do you prefer to work alone?

Coaching Session Prep Form

One helpful way to achieve your personal health goals is to take the time to regularly evaluate your progress. This form is designed to give you a quick way to track your progress toward your goals and identify any changes you need to make to achieve them.

1. What have you accomplished since your last coaching session? What were your small or large successes or new insights?

2. What are the biggest challenges you are facing right now?

3. How are you addressing the challenges that you are facing in order to move forward to your goals?

4. What would you like to focus on in your next coaching session?
