

Science at the Intersection of Genetics, Identity, and Health Workshop

Friday November 4, 2022

J.B. Duke Hotel on Duke Campus

Registration required:

https://bit.ly/evanth\_workshop

**In-person attendance is free but space is limited. The workshop will also be made available virtually via Zoom.*

Program

- |                      |  |
|----------------------|--|
| 8:15 – 8:45   | Coffee & Light breakfast   |
| 8:45 – 9:00   | Welcome, Dr. Amy Goldberg , Duke Univ.   |
| 9:00 – 9:40   | Dr. Maria Nieves-Colón , Univ. MinnesotaUsing Ancient DNA to Interrogate the Colonial History of Latin America   |
| 9:40 – 10:00  | Discussion   |
| 10:00 – 10:10 | Break   |
| 10:10 – 10:50 | Dr. Sean Kimbro , NC Central Univ.Ancestry and Health Disparities: African Americans Out of Context  |
| 10:50 – 11:10 | Discussion   |
| 11:10 – 11:20 | Break   |
| 11:20 – 12:00 | Dr. Krystal Tsosie , Arizona State Univ.Articulating Diné (Navajo) DNA, Identity, Genetic Ancestry, and Health   |
| 12:00 – 12:30 | Discussion   |
| 12:30 – 1:30  | Lunch @ J.B. Duke (provided)   |
| 1:30 – 3:00   | Discussion: Community Involvement & Data SovereigntyDr. Carter Clinton , Penn State Univ.Digging up DNA: The Importance of Studying Historic Burial Soil                   |
| 3:00 – 3:15   | Break   |
| 3:15 – 4:45   | Discussion: Identity & Race in Public Discourse, Medicine & TeachingDr. Joseph Graves Jr. , NC A&amp;T State Univ.Racism, Not Race: Embedded Racism in Health and Disease. |
| 4:45 – 5:00   | Closing, Dr. Herman Pontzer , Duke Univ.   |

For more information, please check <https://sites.duke.edu/pontzerlab/science-at-the-intersection/>