Preferences over Redistribution

Workshop Duke University, Friday and Saturday, April 29-30, 2016

Friday, April 29, 7:45am snacks & beverages; begin: 8:15am
LOCATION: 270 Gross Hall

1. Collective Identities, Territorial Divisions, and Redistributive Preferences

1.1. Pablo Beramendi/Daniel Stegmueller. The Political Geography of the Eurocrisis (8:30am-9:15am)
   Discussant: Yotam Margalit

1.2. Yotam Margalit. The Ideological Basis of the Grexit Debate". (9:15am-10:00am)
   Discussant: Ida Hjermitslev

1.3. David Rueda and Daniel Stegmueller, Heterogeneity and Redistribution (10:00am-10:45am)
   Discussant: Jeremy Spater

   COFFEE/REFRESHMENT BREAK  10:45am – 11:00am

2. Anchoring and Benchmarking Preferences for Redistribution and Information:
   Perception of Settings and Reference Groups, Time Horizons

2.1. Asli Cansunar. Calculating with the Unknown: The Effects of Distributional Misperceptions on Tax Preferences (11:00am – 11:45pm)
   Discussant: Philipp Rehm

2.2. Kent Freeze. Migration and Redistributive Demands (11:45pm – 12:30pm)
   Discussant: Cameron Ballard-Rosa

2.3. Austin Wang. Patience Moderates the Class Cleavage in Demand for Redistribution
   (12:30pm-1:15pm)
   Discussant: Diana Mutz

   LUNCH BREAK: Parker&Otis sandwiches, salads, sweets   1:15pm – 2:00pm

2.4. Soomin Oh and Haohan Chen. Geographical distribution of migrants, information, and redistributive preferences (2:00pm – 2:45pm)
   Discussant: Kent Freeze
2.5. Jeremy Spater, National identification and elite preferences (2:45pm – 3:30pm)
   Discussant: Torben Iversen

   COFFEE/REFRESHMENT BREAK  3:30pm – 3:45pm

3. Methodological and Substantive Sources of Cross-national Variance in Reported Preferences over Redistribution

3.1. Rasmus T. Pedersen and Diana Mutz. Why We Don’t Know What We Think We Know About Attitudes Toward Economic Inequality. Anchoring and Ratio Bias. (4:00pm – 4:45pm)
   Discussant: Austin Wang

3.2. Herbert Kitschelt and Philipp Rehm. Occupational Experiences and Political Preferences (4:45pm – 5:30pm)
   Discussant: Erik Wibbels

5:30pm end of the day’s proceedings

7:00pm dinner by invitation: Restaurant Revolution.
107 W Main St. Durham NC 27701 (919) 945-9999 (http://www.revolutionrestaurant.com/#index)

   Location: 223 Rhodes Conference Room, Sanford School of Public Policy

   8:15am snacks & beverages

4. The Welfare State and Demand for Redistribution

4.1. Cameron Ballard-Rosa. “Personal Student Debt and Preferences for Redistribution” (8:45-9:30am)
   Discussant: Soomin Oh

4.2. Charlotte Cavaillé. Social Policy Preferences in the Age of Austerity (9:30am – 10:15am)
   Discussant: Jonas Kraft

4.3. Jane Gingerich. Do cutbacks in the welfare state make people more conservative? (10:15am-11:00am)
   Discussant: Thomas Loeber

   COFFEE/REFRESHMENT BREAK  11:00am – 11:15am
Discussant: John Stephens

4.5. Torben Iversen and Philipp Rehm. The market for creampuffs: Big Data and the transformation of the welfare state (12:00noon– 12:45pm)
Discussant: Asli Cansunar

LUNCH BREAK: Mediterranean Deli buffet   12:45pm – 1:45pm

5. State Capacity and Demand for Redistribution in the Developing World
(Saturday, April 30, afternoon)

(1:45pm-2:30pm)
Discussant: Pavithra Suryanarayan

5.2. Alisha Holland. “Public Opinion in Truncated Welfare States" (2:30pm – 3:15pm)
Discussant: Bilyana Petrova

COFFEE/REFRESHMENT BREAK   3:15pm – 3:30pm

Discussant: Haohan Chen

5.4. Lucy Martin. Strategic Taxation: A model of taxation, corruption, and democratization under rent-seeking governments (4:15pm – 5:00pm)
Discussant: Georg Vanberg

7:00pm dinner by invitation: Nana’s Restaurant.
2514 University Drive. Durham NC 27707 phone (919) 493-8545
(http://www.nanasdurham.com)