

Eladio Bobadilla
226 Carr Building, Box 90719
Durham, NC 27708
919-904-3801
eladio.bobadilla@duke.edu
eladiob@riseup.net

Education:

PhD, Duke University, in progress.

Bachelor of Integrated Studies, magna cum laude, Weber State University, 2012.

Professional Experience:

Teaching Assistant, "American Dreams, American Realities," for Gerald Wilson, Duke University, 2015.

Research Assistant for Nancy MacLean, Duke University, 2015.

Research Assistant for Paul Kramer, Vanderbilt University, 2015.

Presentations:

"A Shameful Betrayal: The UFW, Undocumented Immigrants, and the Collapse of the Farm Worker Movement," presented at the Pacific Coast Branch, American Historical Association Conference, Sacramento, CA, August 6, 2015.

"Caribbean Migration: Latino Perspectives," presented at The Consortium in Latin American and Caribbean Studies Conference," Duke University and The University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, February 13, 2015.

Publications:

AHA Today Blog Series: "Journey into an Undocumented Past," summer 2015.

Immigration Section of "The Recent Past," The American Yamp, 2014.

"Industrial Commission Losses Will Hurt Workers," op-ed in the Raleigh News and Observer, August 13, 2014.

Awards, Honors, and Memberships:

PhD Lab in Digital Knowledge Scholar, Franklin Humanities Institute, 2015.

President's Graduate Student Travel Grant, Pacific Coast Branch AHA, 2015.

Institute for Humane Studies Conference Travel Grant, 2015.

Conference Travel Grant, History Department, Duke University, 2015.

Winner, American Historical Association AHA Today Blog Contest, 2015.

Summer Research Grant, History Department, Duke University, 2014.

Human Rights @ FHI Summer Research Grant, Duke University, 2014.

Anne Firor Scott Merit Award, Duke University, 2014.

Sam Fishman Travel Grant, Walter P. Reuther Library, Wayne State University, 2014.

Dean's Graduate Fellowship, Duke University, 2013.

Department and College Outstanding Graduate, Weber State University, 2013.

Crystal Crest Scholar of the Year, Weber State University, 2013.